Mary Beth Hagan practices with the Hagan Jenkins Law Group, PLLC where she focuses her practice on construction, business, and real estate litigation, counseling for small to mid-sized businesses, and alternative dispute resolution. Prior to moving her practice closer to home in Murfreesboro, she practiced in downtown Nashville at a mid-sized law firm with an emphasis on business and construction litigation. Mary Beth received an AV Preeminent® rating with the Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review program. She is an active member of the Tennessee Association of Construction Counsel. She also spends time working with the non-profit organization Rutherford County Habitat for Humanity to help people find affordable housing.
